Principal's Message

In January 1976 I started kindergarten at Stirling Primary School in South Africa. To this day I remember my teacher, Miss. Martin. It was her first year teaching. I don't remember the exact things that she taught me but I remember her reading to us, I remember her kindness, her smile, and her gentleness. I remember being introduced to a world of color, words, stories, numbers, and excitement. Like most of the boys in our class, I wanted to marry her one day. Looking back, that was a silly thought. Miss. Martin recently retired after over 45 years as a kindergarten teacher. She spent her entire career at the same school, in the same classroom, and never stopped introducing children to an exciting world of learning. I am grateful for wonderful teachers who give so much of themselves so that children can learn, grow, and develop.

Each day at Endeavor Hall I see glimpses of Miss. Martin. Each day at Endeavor Hall I see students responding as I did to my kindergarten teacher almost 47 years ago. We have wonderful staff who care for our students, and who give so much of their time and energy so that each one of our students has access to learning opportunities. Thank you for trusting us with your children. They are important to us.

We are now in what I call the business end of the school year. We are a little over a month away from end of year state testing. This means that students need to be at school each day, ready to learn and ready to work hard. We look forward to a super end to the school year.

Thank you for all you do to make Endeavor Hall a great school.

DEAR JAEBRIELLA Advice Columnist

Student: What can I do to improve my memory?

Jaebriella: Keep good notes. I struggle with my own memory.

Student: How can I improve my health?

Jaebriella: I would start with practicing a sport you like or working out. Eat better: fruits, vegetables, rice, beans and chicken. Limit your portion sizes.

Student: How can I have good hygiene?

Jaebriella: Make sure to shower at least 2 or 3 times a week! Brush your teeth at least twice a day and again if you are going out somewhere special. Also use deodorant every day!

Benefits of Laughter

Laughter decreases stress hormones and increases immune cells and infection-fighting antibodies, thus improving your resistance to disease. Laughter triggers the release of endorphins, the body's natural feel-good chemicals. Endorphins promote an overall sense of well-being and can even temporarily relieve pain.

Emily Estep / 3rd Grade Teacher

She loves teaching because every day is never the same as the last and gets to have a hand in helping our next generation become spectacular people. She believes children can achieve anything when given the resources, a safe and positive environment, as well as the time to gain confidence in their abilities.

She grew up in a military family and experienced living all across our great country, spending the most time in Northern Virginia/Washington DC Area. She moved out to Utah right before her senior year of high school and has loved every minute of it! She is a proud Aggie, earning her bachelor's degree in Elementary Education at Utah State University in 2020.

In her free time, she loves curling up with a good book, singing along to Disney movies, and cooking new recipes. She loves learning new things about history, science, different cultures, and how to be a better teacher.
